Jewish War Vets Elect Leo Price Council President

Mrs. Bertha Greenberg New Auxiliary Head—Back F.D.R.'s War Policies

Leo Price was unanimously elected county commander of the Kings County Council of Jewish War Veterans at its annual convention at the Plaza Ballrooms, 350 Flatbush Ave. extension, Brooklyn, yesterday. He succeeds Emanuel I. Japhe, retired commander, who officiated at the conclave, which was attended by 2,000 members of borough Jewish veteran units.

Mrs. Bertha Greenberg was chosen president of the Ladies Auxiliary to succeed Mrs. Anne Abelow.

Other county officers elected were: Samuel Schoenholtz, senior vice commander, and Jack Daniels, junior vice commander. Other auxiliary officers chosen were Mrs. Elizabeth Gross, senior vice president, and Mrs. Anne Sieglack, junior vice president.

A resolution was adopted pledging "loyal and undivided confidence" in President Franklin D. Roosevelt and indorsing his "all-out effort in behalf of an all-out victory." The veterans also went on record as urging that "all groups, organizations and individuals cooperate toward that end" and pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred honor to effect his aims."

The resolution was submitted by Nathanial Kaplan, county judge advocate and chairman of the resolutions committee.

Serri Symposium Speaker

"We must make clear by our actions that we are not fighting to make the world safe for respectable Nazi-Fascists," Frank Serri, former president of the Kings County Criminal Courts Bar Association, declared in a symposium on after-the-war questions held at the convention.

Pointing out that polls have shown that soldiers are mainly preoccupied with whether there will be jobs after the war and with our war aims, Mr. Serri declared:

"We must in the future undo the serious damage done by our mistaken Vichy, North Africa and Franco policy. We must prove by our actions that these appeasement blunders will not be repeated, and as we invade we must offer to the underground and the democratic people of Italy, France and other occupied territory the hope of liberation, not only from the official Nazi-Fascist chains but that there will not be substituted new chains, no matter how gilded, of the respectable Nazi-Fascists, the respected generals and monarchists, the bankers and the industrialists, or other apologists and collaborators of the Nazi-Fascist system.

"The jobs will be there if normalcy and reaction do not win in 1944, and if the main principle of the New Deal—which is that a government should plan intelligently together with industry, to provide for work for all—be extended here and applied to the whole world."

They propose a first-year investment of about $50,000 and envision an annual income after several years of $200,000.

The station, operating on a frequency of 1520 kilocycles, would be on the air from 6 a.m. nutil sunset, with transmitting facilities and studios located in Huntington township. The 1,000-watt transmitter would be situated somewhere along the shorefront west of Northport with the main studio at the broadcasting plant and an auxiliary studio in the Hotel Huntington.
